Back of T-shirt

Although pancreatic cancer is the 4th largest cancer killer, it is 11th in funding for research. The survival rate for 5 years is 5%. November is Pancreatic Cancer Month (color Purple), and the Cousins for a Cure have organized a fundraising drive that will also raise awareness of this devastating cancer. All proceeds will go for cancer research, in honor of our cousin, Diane, who is fighting this monster, and has coined a new word "Grititude" (Girl raised in the South, with Attitude). The designer of the shirt says, "The reason that I chose a butterfly for the design is because the butterfly is a symbol that is widely accepted as representing a strong spirit. This butterfly represents our strong Diane. The butterfly makes a long and dangerous journey. It has to be strong spirited and lucky too in order to reach its destination. Our Diane is one of the luckiest people I know and she is strong spirited ... and as beautiful as any butterfly." This shirt is for anyone who faces life with "Grititude."
